Library Asks Return Books

By Terry Munns
Staff Writer

The first full month of the new fines system, the library reports that books kept up to 10 per cent.

The library has the number of books in the library more than four per cent more. But for the month of November, 12 per cent of the books checked out were overdue, compared with only two per cent in November.

Based on the numbers, 12 per cent means approximately one book each week are overdue, one book each month. But the library has had to send second notices to only about one per cent of the students with overdue books. These students will have to be held up.

Statistics don't look too good, we still are very behind. Grace Allphin, the library's desk librarian, "We commend those who are returning their books in on time. The students are trying."

Allphin related the story of a student who kept his books so long, and had to be given a courtesy notice. He decided the new policy so he donated $2 to pay for his notices. "We appreciate what we see in it's all worth while," Mrs. Allphin said, "but when we see patrons are reminded first notice is in the book students and faculty get notice of the due date to return the books they expire, the library saved a tremendous unnecessary work."

Make Home BYU Facts

The new forward-bound students will have a chance to make a little BYU home.

The "quick-facts book" on the private university of the nation will be available at several locations on campus today and tomorrow.

The book contains facts and figures and can be useful to anyone interested in

Rogers Appointed Assistant Dean

Dr. R. Max Rogers, presently chairman of the Department of Germanic and Slavic Languages at BYU, has been appointed assistant dean of the College of Humanities, President Ernest L. Wilkinson announced today.

Dr. Rogers will assist Dr. Bruce B. Clark, dean of the College of Humanities and professor of English.

Max Rogers

At a recent meeting in Albuquerque of the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association, Dr. Rogers was elected vice president of the professional organization, heading the association next year when BYU hosts the RMLA convention in Provo.

Dr. Rogers, who received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from BYU in 1940 and 1942, respectively, obtained his Ph.D. from Stanford University in 1951. He began teaching German at BYU in 1945, later teaching the same subject at Stanford and the Army Language Training Program at Stanford.

With Dr. Arthur R. Watkins, professor of German at BYU, Dr. Rogers has co-authored one of the most widely used texts for teaching German on college campuses—"German Through Conversational Patterns."

The pair has also written two other books: "Interessantes Deutsch" and "Reviewing German."

Dr. Rogers and his wife Florence are the parents of six children. He has served as a counselor in Church bishoprics, has been a bishop and is currently working with an Aaronic Priesthood group.

'Y' Receives Gift From American Oil

BYU has received an unrestricted gift of $5,000 from American Oil Foundation, President Ernest L. Wilkinson has said.

The gift was presented by J.R. Anderson, Salt Lake district manager, and Victor Duch, Salt Lake regional manager of employee relations of American Oil Company. BYU has been the recipient of similar awards from American Oil Foundation for several years.

BYU is one of 150 carefully selected private colleges and universities in the United States to receive an unrestricted grant in 1968 from Standard Oil (Indiana) Foundation or from American Oil Foundation or the Pan American Petroleum Foundation. The latter are supported by subsidiary companies of Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

L.W. Moore of Chicago, president of American Oil

Foundation, commenting on the BYU grant, said: "It continues to be our hope that all outstanding schools will receive the support they need from private sources to continue the progress they have been making in recent years and to help them meet demands they face in the future."

Some men think the only way to get a good, close shave is with a Mach 3.
If that's what you think, we'd like to tell you something about the Norelco Tripleheader Speedshaver.
In a very independent laboratory, we had some very independent men shave one side of their faces with a leading stainless steel blade, and the other side with a new Norelco Tripleheader.

The results showed the Tripleheader shaved as close or closer than the blade in 2 out of 3 shaves.
The Tripleheader has three rotary blades inside new, thin, Microgroove heads that, to shave you closer.

The Tripleheader has a pop-up sideburn trimmer. A handy, coiled cord. And a 110/220 voltage selector.
It comes in both a Cord and a Rechargeable model. And it won't pull or nick or cut.

Fruit Cakes Are Festive Fare

New York (NAPS) — Mention fruit cake and everyone conjures up his own sugar and spice visions.

Southern fruit cakes are often "light" fruit cakes with a pound cake base. In addition South Carolinians, they say, demand that their fruit cakes be topped with almonds or a marzipan frosting.

In times past fruit cake was used as one layer of the wedding cake and was put aside to be served on the couple's first anniversary.

Fruit cakes are traditional Christmas fans. Many people like to give them as gifts, wrapping them in the container in which they were baked. One smart idea is to bake individual fruit cakes in tiny muffin pans and decorate the tops with candied fruit.

Given here are recipes for two types of fruit cakes. One is a traditional fruit-filled cake which makes two eight-inch tube-pan cakes. The color of the cakes can be varied by the choice of light or dark raisins and light or dark corn syrup.

There is also a recipe for Sherry Holiday Cakes which can be baked in an eight-inch tube-pan, loaf pan or in cupcake pans. The marzipan frosting can be used on any of the cakes.

If you prefer unfrosted fruit cakes, give them a glaze by brushing them with heated light corn syrup.

FRUIT CAKE

1/4 pound seedless raisins, light or dark

1/4 pound finely cut dates

1/4 pound finely cut candied citron

1 pound finely cut, assorted candied fruits, orange peel, lemon

peel, pineapple and cherries

3/4 cups sifted flour

1 teaspoon baking powder

1 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon each: allspice, cloves and nutmeg

1 cup margarine

1/2 cup brown sugar

1 cup light or dark corn syrup

4 eggs, slightly beaten

1/2 cup orange juice

Weigh and prepare fruit. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Dredge fruit with one-half cup of the dry ingredients. Cream margarine, add sugar, cream until light.

Add corn syrup; mix well. Add one cup of the dry ingredients; beat until smooth. Add eggs, beating in well. Add orange juice; mix well. Add fruit mixture. Fold in remaining dry ingredients.

Bake in well-greased loaf-pans, or two (eight-inch) tube-pans, lined with waxed paper, in 250 degrees F. (slow) oven four to five hours, depending on size of cake.

Place shallow pan of water on bottom of rack of oven during baking; remove during last hour. (Fruit cake improves with age. Prepare well in advance. Wrap well; store in air-tight container.) Makes about five pounds.

Petite Fruit Cakes: Use one-half recipe for fruit cake; add one-half cup chopped pecans or walnuts with fruit. Bake in fluted paper cups in cupcake pans or in regular cupcake pans.

Bake in 300 degrees F. (slow) oven about 1 hour. Remove from oven. Brush tops with egg white and garnish with candied cherries, sliced almonds, or citron.

Return to oven and continue baking 15 minutes longer. Cool. To serve, remove paper cups. Replace with fresh ones. Makes about two dozen.

"A computer has no mind of its own. Its 'brainpower' comes from the people who create the programs," says Rod Company.

Rod earned a B.S. in Math in 1966. Today, he's an IBM Systems Programmer working on a portion of Operating System/360, a hierarchy of programs that allows a computer to schedule and control most of its own operations.

A mixture of science and art

"Programming" means writing the instructions that enable a computer to do its job. Says Rod, "It's a mixture of science and art. You're a scientist in the sense that you have to analyze problems in a completely logical way.

"But you don't necessarily hunt for an ultimate right answer. There can be as many solutions to a programming problem as there are programmers. That's where the art comes in. Any given program may work, but how well it works depends entirely on the ingenuity of the programmer."

Programmers hold a key position in the country's fastest growing major industry—information processing. Business Week reports that the computer market is expanding about 20 percent a year.

Swimmers Capture Beehive Invitational

By Alton O'Hara
Universe Sports Writer

Anticipation is filling the atmosphere around the Cougar Camp this year as the BYU swim squad is primed for another successful season.

This is indicated in the results of the Beehive Relay victory copied by the Cats last Saturday in Provo. When the cheering foam finally settled, BYU outpointed rivals Idaho State and the University of Utah 122-76-116 respectively.

Overall strength was displayed by Cougar swimmers as they lashed out a stunning triumph. Eight Beehive Relay records were tied in the fierce competition, a majority of them by Cougar tankmen.

The Y watermen rocked records in the 200-yard backstroke relay, 200-yard breaststroke relay, 400-yard individual medley and the 400-yard medley relay.

NOTABLE PERFORMERS
Swimming strongly for the Cats this year with notable performances in Saturday's meet were Glenn Yamashita, team captain; Jess Allen, Rob Stodart; Lloyd Pettigrew and Reinhard Funk.

The two young BYU divers, John Wolfigramm and Jim Whytles, sparked in the face of stiff competition. Pulling in a clutch performance, they outpointed both opposing duos to capture the one meter diving competition.

A see-saw battle ensued from the very beginning between BYU and the U. of U. The first event went to the Utes and the next to the Cougars, and the action continued that way until the seventh medley event broke the pattern. The Cats swept two events in a row to take the lead, which they never relinquished.

January 3rd and 4th will find the Cougars swim squad in California for the West Coast University Relays and a meet with Occidental College. If all goes well, the Cougar Tankers should return with a higher ranking to meet Simon Fraser University and the University of California at Santa Barbara in Provo, Jan. 10 and 11.

The toughest test of the season for Y swimmers will be presented by the U. of U. in Salt Lake City and Colorado State University at Ft. Collins during upcoming matches. Walter Cryer, head swimming coach, says that the two meets will probably determine the WAC kings for 1969.

Cougar power should be bolstered at mid-semester when fine long distance swimmers, Slobodan Djackovich, will be eligible to compete. He is from Yugoslavia, a former member of the Yugoslavian National Swimming Team and is ranked world competition.
